GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

William McGuigan, an elastic and skilful turfman of long experience, record and performance in both the harness and thoroughbred avenues of the turf, has made a recent mistake of startling breadth. He entered horses cheaply in California Jockey Club stakes and then declared out the entries in a communication, in which he insulted Presiding Judge Joseph A. Murphy, Capt. Jim Rees and John Carter, who have been, are, or will be the overlooking judges of racing at the Oakland track. President T. H. Williams answered the McGuigan letter in his usual frank way. The answer dubbed the communication insulting and declared that McGuigan's future entries would not be accepted. McGuigan's action was revengeful and out of the judicial action which caused Jockey Morrison's suspension. Of course, it was wrong. Morrison's suspension may have been an error. It probably was not. The men McGuigan attacked, however, are the best and keenest of Western officials. All are keenly protective and influential. The McGuigan drive at Joseph A. Murphy, as an "ex-foot runner," was dull and clumsy. Mr. Murphy was a footrunner and a champion in his day. But he was an amateur champion and his amateur standing was never questioned. Mr. Murphy was a good newspaper man, too, before he became a good racing official. McGuigan has made a bad mistake. He will so discover, later on.

Lord Rosebery, in a recent speech before an English club, said in reference to racing: "The rewards, compared with the disappointments, are 1 per cent. For a quarter of a century I struggled to win the Derby. Sometimes I ran second, sometimes third, often last, and finally won. I ought to have been the happiest of men. But what was the result? I held a high office and was attacked with the greatest violence for owning race horses at all. I then made a discovery, which came to me too late, that although without guilt of offense I might have run second, third and even last, it became a matter of torture to many consciences if I won the Derby. My troubles did not end there. At the general election my party was assailed, not because we were too sporting, but because we were not sporting enough. I was, however, of the opinion that for the trials of the turf compensation came in experience and life friendships formed on the turf, which are invaluable to any man who wishes to get on in life, and I believe that the sport in England was never better or purer."

According to the Breeder and Sportsman, Dan Honig received an offer of $4,000 for Magnet last week, Adolph B. Spreckels being said to be the would-be buyer. The offer was refused and The Breeder expresses fear that the fast son of St. Blaise will be allowed to go to Marcus Daly, to the loss of Californian breeding interests. The success of the St. Carlo youngsters this year makes it appear that Magnet would be a highly desirable addition to the list of splendid sires now in California. St. Carlo is by St. Blaise—Carino, by Kingfisher and Magnet is by St. Blaise—Magnetic, by The Ill-Used—Magnetism, by Kingfisher, so that it can be seen both horses are closely related on the maternal as well as the paternal side. St. Carlo, having done so well, it seems reasonable to conclude that Magnet—a better race horse—would be equally, or more successful if mated with well bred mares.

Little "Major" McIntyre has been suspended indefinitely for bad rides on Kamsin, Personne and others of Louis Ezell's horses. The stable policy that puts a rider so poor as McIntyre on horses that could plainly win with more capable jockeys up is more reprehensible than the boy's bungling work. Incompetent jockeys should be "set down" for the protection of the public in cases where they have palpably wrought damage, but the owners, who knowingly put up the incompetent jockeys should also come in for some sort of punishment.

Recreation has apparently recovered from her dangerous sickness of last summer and is now taking steady work. This fine daughter of Morello was easily the best two-year-old in California last spring and may again be able to assert her supremacy.

trict track a number of times, also that a man ruled off for life in Australia for alleged fraud had a large string racing around San Francisco. Furthermore, Trance and Disparity were, after the former was ruled off, sold to a man named Darcey, then he in turn sold her to Mr. Lewis. They were sent over in Halliday's hands to be trained, raced to win, and then, after their merits were shown, to be sold. Mr. Lewis has been visiting relatives in Connecticut for more than five months and took little interest in the animals further than to hear that they were running well and would

The good race horse Salvation, one of the best performers in California last winter and spring, has been fired and his owner is of the opinion he will be able to do battle against the other cracks before spring arrives.

It appears that J. D. Lewis, the owner of Trance, was not ruled off along with the mare and her trainer, Dan Halliday. Lewis' side of the case is decidedly interesting, and is thus given in a San Francisco contemporary: "Mr. Lewis stated to us that he did not imagine there could be any rule against Trance running in America, because he knew that Marcelle (under the ban in the colonies) was raced at Bay Dis-therefore bring good prices. The Australian was not even at the track on but three occasions when she ran, for he visited around the state ("seeing the sights"), having had a surfeit of race-going in his native country. On not a single one of her races did he ever wager a cent. It was more to his interest for the mare to run well than poorly, and he stated that had she won one or two more races in good company he intended putting her up at auction in San Francisco. A petition is now being framed asking the mare's reinstatement, and Mr. Lewis will set forth the facts in the case as far as he is concerned."

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Secretary Edwin F. Smith, of the California State Agricultural Society, announces that the California Futurity, to be run at the State Fair meeting at Sacramento in 1898, is worth $3,860 to date, and that the two payments still to be made will bring the value up to $5,000. This stake is becoming more valuable every year, and the attention of breeders is called to the fact that entries for the California Futurity of 1900 close on January 1, 1898.

In addition to Mr. Pettingill, C. J. Fitzgerald, the competent New Orleans starter and present Clerk of the Scales of the Jockey Club, and W. J. Fitzpatrick and E. Garrison, the ex-jockeys, are being considered in connection with the Jockey Club's post of starter. If Mr. Pettingill is supplanted, Mr. Fitzgerald will be his successor.

San Francisco, all things considered, sustains racing better than any other city in America. In general volume the operation of turf sport there is amazing. The present season is better than those of the past and the racing as good looking in form figures as the best this country has ever seen.

Beginning January 1 the clerk of the scales at Ingleside will collect the money for the mounts before the jockeys are weighed out. This is as it should be upon every American racetrack.

The so-called outlaw tracks in the Maryland-Virginia corner have agreed about the matter of dates and there will be no future clash. Barksdale will follow Iron Hill and run during January.

Hi Ki Club, Cincinnati, O.—Prince Leif ran sixteen races as a two-year-old both West and East. Of them he won nine; was second in three; third in one and unplaced in three.

Timemaker, sent by J. W. Schorr & Son to make a winter campaign at New Orleans, went lame soon after his arrival, and was returned to Memphis, accompanied by Presbyterian.

Assistant Secretary Bronner announces that the stewards of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club have sustained the ruling of the judges in the matter of the mare Trance.

According to Eastern report Dave Gideon is to make a short and conservative winter campaign in California, with Mike Daly as his trainer.

There are good reports about the condition of that noble filly Recreation from California. She is doing well and being made ready for racing.

St. Callatine has developed quite a temper and was very flighty at the post in her last race.

Odds On, the fast colt in the Burns & Waterhouse stable, is branded as unsound.

The Oneck Stable is drawing in its turf horns and has released Jockey Sam Doggett.

Winner—Ch. c, by Kismet—Emotion.
Start straggling. Won easily. Murphy was away with a full sail. He did not need such an advantage. The colt was well ridden. Esperando ran a honest race. Watch him. Darechota favors mellow footing. She likes a route and was closing fast. McHugh ran as if green. Brambella and Outlay are of no account. It was a poor lot.

Winner—Br. c, 2, by St Carlo—Lady Marion.
Start fair. Won in a hand gallop. Marmion is a grand colt—the best in present training here. He far outclassed his field, with the worst of weights. Rose ran his race and finished strong. He is good and favors a route. Hermoso went to pieces at the end, under sharp pressure more than he could stand. Watch Towanda. He was coming and is ready. He was none too well ridden. Midas was eased up and made up much ground after interference at start and on first bend. Bow & Arrow was closing. Watch this fellow. Koran was shut off early and eased at finish. Palmer likes a route. He was short today.
Scratched—Good Friend, 98; Cash Day, 112; Free Lady, 113; Torsion, 116.
Overweights—Hermoso, 2 pounds.

Winner—B. c, by Order—Nokomis.
Start good. Won easily. Jack outclassed his lot. He's good and was lucky. Marks sulks. He sulks to-day. He was shut off on first turn and will be best at a distance. Morinel's game is soft going and a route. Catawba, much used, went to pieces when the pinch came and is but a sprinter. Ashley ran short. Mainbar had awful luck. He was interfered with on first and stretch turns and finished strong. Throw out Einstein's race. He was in every possible pocket. Mistleton was eased up. Donator is worth consideration only at a route and on a fast track.

Pete Kitchen is good just now. He is cleverly handled, too. Alva weakened when pinched. Rhett Goode is rounding to.
